May 2012

Slow food meets fast innovation technology

From hearty soups, to creamy risottos and tender lamb shanks, finishing the day with a deliciously warming meal is one of winter's greatest pleasures. For both quick weeknight meals and casual weekend cooking & entertaining, Breville's unique, multi-function cooking range can produce a variety of tender, wholesome meals for any lifestyle.

The new Breville Multi Chef™ (BRC600) advanced multi-cooker is a 3.7 litre searing slow cooker, 10 cup rice cooker, risotto maker and steamer in one.

Versatile and easy to use, the Multi Chef effortlessly makes a range of flavoursome meals including: an authentic risotto without stirring, fluffy rice and slow cooked dishes. It's also ideal for cooking the latest super food – quinoa.

When cooking is complete your meal will automatically be kept warm for up to five hours (risotto for 30 minutes), maintaining optimum temperature and texture until ready to serve.

Winner of the inaugural Tester's CHOICE Award in the 2012 annual CHOICE Awards, the 6 litre Breville Fast Slow Cooker (BPR200) combines super-fast pressure cooking and slow cooking in one compact appliance.

When used as a pressure cooker, midweek meals can be ready in as little as 30 minutes. For added assurance, the Breville Fast Slow Cooker features a steam release button and safety locking lid that cannot be removed while cooking under pressure.

When time is not an issue, the slow cook setting can be used to produce mouth-watering meals, infused with rich flavours for up to eight hours.

Both cookers feature a Saute/Sear setting to help soften, brown and caramelise; perfect for creating an intense flavour base for wholesome casseroles and winter soups.

For fast, healthy dishes, the cookers also feature a stainless steel trivet and steam basket for vegetables, chicken and seafood.

Breville Multi Chef™ (BRC600) $129.95 rrp
